NOTES

Born 15 April 2343 (Terran calender) on Pentath III. Pelor, his father, is an Operations Officer assigned to the First Order. His mother, Elati, is a bureaucrat with the Bureau of Identification. An only child, however, Ars developed a close (and competitive) relationship with his cousin Dalla Nist during their advanced schooling on Cardassia Prime.

As is customary at the age of six, Ars was assigned an Te'alakesh (Jek Dorr) and began his education. Ars was a capable, and dedicated, student. Upon completion of his studies his abilities earned him a billet at the Ba'Marren Military Academy on Cardassia Prime. While attending Ba'Marren Ars developed a rather heated rivalry with Darc Dorr, the youngest son of his Te'alakesh.

His ample performance at the Academy (and perhaps his father's Vesala, as well) earned his posting to the First Order. Serving his mandatory three years military service with the Order's Fourth Battalion, stationed on his birhtworld Pentath III (battalion headquarters) ever watchful of the Klingon frontier.

Ars is currently in his first ten year tour, serving in the security detail aboard the Maklar, commanded by Gul Malyn Ocett, where he saw front line action during the Second Klingon War-fighting in the first major battle of the war.

With changing personnel needs brought on by the war with the Federation, Ars will be assigned to lead a security detachment from Maklar temporarily assigned to Terok Nor.
